A Day in the Life at...

EVkids Camp

A Barnyard Bash!

Pigs and chickens and cows, oh my! At Drift Farmstead, EVkids Campers enjoyed raspberry snow cones while learning about sustainability and farming, even creating their own compost piles with worms. Campers ended the day on a high note with original performances about food and community, including a rap about kale chicken soup! You make it possible for Campers to build a strong, supportive community!

Philosophy 101 is in Session

Campers discuss everything from artificial intelligence to the environment in the newly added Philosophy 101 workshop! The Counselors facilitate open debates, encouraging each Camper to think critically about the issue at hand and, most importantly, have fun! Thanks to your support, Campers can challenge themselves in many ways, and take what they learn back to Dance (and Cook) the Night Away!

The Camp Cooking Crew stays motivated by dancing while they make dinner! They got creative and took taco bake night to the next level by adding plantains. For a sweet end to the meal, two Campers whipped up fresh peach cobbler for dessert, yum! You make it possible for kids to experience immersive, community-style living and learn to work together, and take these skills to the top!
